WHICH POINT TO DAVID B. HILL AS THE LEADER

WHO WILL POINT THE WAY IN 1892.

He Does Not Think That Cleveland Is on the Right Road, and That the New York Governor Is the Verifable Moses.

WASHINGTON, February 17 .- [Special.]-That sturdy old democrat, ex-Senator Eaton, of Connecticut, says in an interview in The Critic, that David B. Hill is the choice of Connecticut for president. Then he adds:

"With one exception, he is the ablest demo cratic leader this country has had in many

"Who is the exception?" "Why, Arthur P. Gormon. What a magnificent fight Gorman made against the force bill! There is nothing like it on record. He is a splendid general, a born leader of men, and deserves well of his party. Mind you, my first choice, as I said before, is David Bennett Hill, but I have a very warm spot in my heart for the

"It was very inopportune, to say the least, but that is like Cleveland." Continuing, Senator Eaton said that it was his opinion that the democrats would elect the next president, but he hoped the nominee would not be Grover Cleveland.

"Cleveland," he said, "is rot a good demo crat. He is more of an autocrat. He is not in touch with the masses, and never was. I sincerely hope the next nomine of the democratic party will be a true and tried democrat That man is not Grover Clev land."

Judge Newman in Town. Judge Newman in Town.

Judge Newman, of Atlants, is here. He is partially on a pleasure trip, but is urging the officials in the architect's office to have the federal court and postoffice building in Atlanta ready for occupancy by the second week in March. He was very much pleased to find. that Mr. Clements had gotten the $15,000 appropriation for heating apparatus, elevators, etc., in the deficiency bill reported this morning. The bill will become a law in a few days, and the money will be available within two weeks. The money was only asked for two weeks ago, and Mr. Clements deserves credit for getting it in the deficiency bill. Had the request been delayed even a few days, the appropriation would have been delayed a year. Judge Newman will go over to New York tomorrow. The fact that he was the only southern district judge comended for the manner in which he conducts the business of his court by the report of the recent congressional investigating committee, has caused him to be heartily congratulated by his Georgia and other friends here.

Colonel Oates, who was a member of the investigating committee, met him today, and extended his congratulations. Colonel Oates says he is one of the ablest and best district judges in the entire south.

A South Carolina Goldbug. Mr. W. L. Trenholm, formerly of South Carolina, but now of New York, who was comptroller of the currency under Cleveland, is here on the Reform Club committee protesting against free coinage. He says Mr. Cleve land's friends believe his anti-silver letter will strengthen him with the people generally, and make him the next president. Indeed, all the goldbugs put it just this way.

The Silver Gossip. Although both houses of congress were considering appropriation bills today, nearly all the gossip apout the capitol was on the subject The free-coinage men received assurances that the coinage committee would rene this week. Therefore the y will hold off for a day or two, and give the committee ample time to act. There were man rumors afloat, as to what the republicans intended to do. Notwithstanding the talk in concus last night to the effect that it was best to do nothing this session, it was the general opinion that session, it was the general opinion that Reed, McKinley and other republican leaders, all of whom were absent from the caucus, have a scheme on hand to enact some sort of silver legislation this ses-

IT WOULD BE GOOD POLITICS.

They, however, do not want to move until believe there would be good politics in the passage of a financial bill, providing for the free coinage of the silver product of American mines, and a provision reducing the deposit required of national banks, and allowing them to issue currency to the total amount of their bond deposit. With such a law as this, it is claimed the republican party can say to the west: "We have given you free coinage, and we have given it to you west: in such shape that this country cannot be made the dumping ground of the silver of the world. They can also say that the changes in the national banking system, as outlined above, will increase the currency, and give the country the relief needed. This plan, some of the republican leaders declare, will end the freecoinage agitation, and the republican party will get the credit for free coinage in the west, and will, therefore, make that section again solidly republican. All this is, however, mere talk among the leaders. If Sherman approves it, the chances are that it will be put through before adjournment. If not, then the chance are there will be no silver legislation. The free-coinage men are, however, determined to fight to the end of the session. E. W. B.

THE TARIFF AND THE TREATY. A Point of Mr. Carlisle's During the De bate on the Hawailan Cable. WASHINGTON, February 17.—In the senate the question of the Hawaiian cable came up again, Mr. Carlisle taking the ground that under the treaty with the kingdom of Hawaii the United States had the right to the occupation of the harbor of Fearl river, and could land a cable there without any concession that might be held by a without any concession that might be held by a citizen of Massachusetts. That treaty, however, had been violated by the United States in the passage of the tariff act of 1890, though he was not aware that the Hawaiian government regarded the treaty as abrogated. In panection with that point, the action of the onnection with that point, the action of the conference committee and of the two houses in connection with the tariff bill came under discussion. Mr. Carlisle agreed that the Hawaiian cable amendment had no propri place on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It related to a stubject that ought to stand by itself and on its own merits. By placing sugar on the tree list, under the tariff bill of 1890, the act of 1876 admitting sugar and rice from the Hawaiian islands free of duty, so as to carry out the treaty, had been repealed—expressly an absolutely revealed—by the congress of the United States without notice to the Hawaiian government.

Mr. Allison—I understand the senator from contucky to say that, with the knowledge and understanding of congress, the commercial part of the Hawaiian treaty was abrogued by the legislation of last year.

fully examined the question that the omission of the clause which was originally in the bill (that it should not repeal existing treaties) did not affect the Hawaiian treaty at all. If the commercial position of that treaty was abrogated it was not done with my knowledge or with my nnderstand-ing that it was to be abrogated.

THE INDIAN APPROPRIATIONS. The Bill Is Reported to the House With Amendments.

Washington, February 17.—In pursuance of a written designation by the speaker, the house was called to order this morning by Mr. Payson, of Illinois.

Mr. Thompson, of Ohio, from the committee on judiciary, reported a resolution for the impeachment of Alex Boarman, judge of the United States district court for the western district of Louisiana, for high crimes and misdemeanors. Ordered printed and recommitted. Mr. Stone, of Missouri, from the committee on public lands, reported a bill forfeiting certain railroad land grants.

Mr. Adams, of Illinois, raised the question of onsideration, and the house having refused to consideration, and the house having refused to consider the bill, it was withdrawn. Mr. Brewer, of Michigan, presented, and after a brief debate, the house agreed to the confer-ence report on the fortification appropriation ence report on the fortification appropriation bill.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Carter, of Montana, offered an amendment appropriating $946,000 to carry out the agreement with the Crow Indians, of Montana. Adopted.

Mr. Holman offered an amendment providing that the Cherokee nation may negotiate with the secretary of the interior for the sale of the Cherokee outlet. Adopted.

The committee then rose and reported the bill to the house. The previous question was ordered on the passage of the bill, and the house adjourned.

Admiral Porter was this afternoon laid to rest in historic Arlington.

The body of the late admiral lay in state at the family mansion all the forenoon and was viewed by a constant stream of people, including many of his late comrades of the navy.

About 1 o'clock the house was closed to visitors, and the room containing the body was cleared of everybody, including the sentinel, and Mrs. Porter and members of her family took their last farewell of the dead. The casket was closed immediately thereafter.

farewell of the dead. The casket was closed immediately thereafter.

Services for the dead were held at the house, and were those of the Episcopal church.

The grave had been dug in the lawn, which slopes quite abruptly to the river, a few yards in front and to the left of the northeast corner of the old Lee mansion, and occupies the same relative position to the north of the main entrance to the building as Sheridan's tomb does to the south of it.

WASHINGTON, February 17 .- A. J. Warner, formerly member of congress from Ohie and now head of the silver national executive committee made a vigorous argument today before the house committee on coinage in advocacy of the bill for the free colnage of silver.

John Warner, congressman-elect from New York, who was one of the delegation sent here from the Cooper union meeting, then protested against additional silver legislation.

THE RISING RIVERS. A Great Flood in West Virginia-Railroads

Blocked by Landslides. WHEELING, W. Va., February 17 .- The great est flood in many years is expected here. Reports from all sections of the state indicate un-usually heavy rains and the streams are rising rapidly. All railroads entering the city are blocked by landslides and communication is almost entirely cut off in every direction. THE MONONGAHELA AND YOUGHIOGHENY.

MCKESPORT, Pa., February 17. The Mononga-hela and Youghiogheny rivers are both over their banks and rising at the rate of five inches per hour. The W. B. Wood Iron Works, National Rolling Mill and Steel Works are submerged. Much damage has been done in the lower part of the city and many families are compelled to aban-don their homes.

THE BOOK AGENT'S SCHEME To Influence Members of the West Virginia Legislature. Charleston, W. Va., February 17.—Ed B. Dyer, of Kanawha county, rose in his place in the house of delegates today and announced that a book agent had thrust $50 into his vest pocket, and agent had thrust $50 into his vest pocket, and that he regarded the "present" as a "bribe" to influence his vote on the question of a change of school books throughout the state. Delegate Dyer then handed the $50 over to the speaker of the house. An investigation was ordered, and the sergeant-at-arms was sent to arrest the agent, whose name was given as George Howard, but he was not found at his hotel. It is rumored tonight that he will be in Cincinnati by rumored tonight that he will be in Cincinnati by morning. The investigation, it is said, will in-volve some who would rather be not known in

It was another day for an indiscriminate slaughter of the bulls. Down they went. They made a gallant fight fast the large transactions of about 143,000 bales testify. Active dealings would mean money, however, if there had been any considerable sharp interest, but there was not, and the discouraged bulls offered the only solution. They had no peg to hang on, except the vague talk about the large crop being already discounted by the present low prices. Liverpool was against them, southern ports were against them, and they had to succumb. How near the bottom are we? This is the question we hear on all sides. It is one which may be answered this month or not, until the prospects for the next The Sun's Cotton Review. month or not, until the prospects for the next crop become an influence upon values. ### IS THERE A DEAL

BETWEEN THE FARMERS AND THE DEMOCRATS

IN ILLINOIS AND SOUTH DAKOTA?

The Democrats Assist the Independents in South Dakota to Elect Kyle—The Illi-nois Eepublicans See Trouble Ahead.

PIERRE, S. D., February 17 .- James H. Kyle was elected United States senator on the fourth ballot yesterday by a combination of independent and democrotic votes, the result standing: Kyle, 75; Sterling, 55; Trippe, 8; Campbell, 1. Thirty members paired. The result is regarded here as having been brought about in some measure by agitation of the Illinois-South Dakota reciprocity scheme. Kyle is a native of St. Laurence county, New York, about thirty-seven years old, and is a Congregational minister of broad views. He has obtained a school and college education while earning his living and was ordained in 1884. He has since held pastorates at Crested Butte, Col., and Ipswich and Aberdeen, S. D. Last summer he accepted the position of financial agent for Yankton college, and in the state election last fall was elected state senator from Brown county on the independent ticket.

The nomination was against his inclinations, and during the campaign he took no part in electing officers. Early in the contest at Pierre, which has resulted in his election to the United States senate, he was asked to be a candidate for United States senator by the independent caucus, but refused until it was ap-parent that it was the only possible chance for the independents. He is a staunch prohibi-tionist and was a republican before the last

The Illinois Deadlock.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., February 17 .- The sen atorial battle opened with renewed vigor this morning, the republican steering committee endeavoring to throw as much of the repub-lican strength as possible to Streeter (Farmers' Mutual Beneficial Association), hoping in this way to prevent the farmers from voting for Palmer. The first ballot of the day, the ninety-eighth of the session, showed the following result: Palmer, 101; Oglesby, 30; Streeter, 69; Lindley, 3; Steele, 1. Streeter gained from the republicans up to the 101st ballot, which resulted as follows: Palmer, 101; Streeter, 75; Oglesby, 23; Hunter, 3, Lindley, 1; Steele, 1. An adjournment was then taken until tomorrow.

SIX MEN DEAD

From the Wreck on the Chester and Lengh

Road. CHARLOTTE, N. C., February 17 .- [Special.]-Late news from the awful wreck which occurred on the Chester and Lenoir narrow gauge railroad yesterday is to the effect that besides the three who were killed outright, three of the other injured ones have since died.

They were Rev. Mr. Little, of Dallas, N. C.; Frank Coulter, of Catawob, N. C., and Mr. Johnson, of Gastonia. Four of the dead Messrs. Hoag, Johnson, Coulter and Ross, have been sent to their homes for burial. The bodies of Rev. Mr. Little and H. M. Morrow are still in Newton.

FROM THE CAROLINE ISLANDS.

The Spaniards and Natives Fight Again-The Natives Victorious. SAN FRANCISCO, February 17 .- A private letter from the Caroline Islands gives an account of further fighting between the natives and Spaniards, in which the latter were worsted. Last November the Spanish governor sent an expedition consisting of three gunboats and meiva. The sailors and troops landed and after a meiva. The saliors and troops landed and after a loss of sixty men made the natives retreat. The Spaniards were reinforced, and six days later attacked the natives. The latter were be-hind a barricade, and were armed with mus-kets and two small cannon. The Spaniards were badly repulsed with a loss of 120.

It is reported that a general uprising of na-tives will occur, and the governor has dis-patched ships to Manila for troops.

THE HILL MURDER CASE. The Negroes Around Stone Mountain Greatly Enraged.

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., February 17 .- [Spe STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—The excitement among the negroes here over the murder of the Rev. Bailey Hill still runs high. Yesterday evening Bill Hendricks, one of the young white men suspected of the murder of the dead preacher, was arrested upon a bench warrant, charged with retailing whisky, and not for the murder of Bailey Hill, as reported.

whisky, and not for the murder of Bailey Hill, as reported.

The grand jury of DeKalb county has been working on the case all day. Several witnesses have testified before that body. The evidence, however, is all circumstantial. There are hundreds of rumors going the rounds that upon investigation prove to be without foundation. Tonight a private telegram was received here from Lithonia, stating that about seventy-five negroes were armed and coming to Stone Mountain to hunt the murderers down. Up to this hour, 10 o'clock, they have not made their appearance, and it is thought they have abandoned their trip.

Young Hendricks was carried to Conyers and placed in jail there, as DeKalb county has no jail now. He will be brought to Decatur tomorrow for trial on the charge of running a "bilind tiger."

The Change Approved as Being Good

The Change Approved as Being Good Business Policy.

Columeus, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—announcement that the savings department of the Eagle and Phenix Manufacturing Company was to be discontinued and its affairs wound up, created considerable surprise yesterday, but fortunately the admirable exhibit made by the directors and their arrangement to meet at an early date the demand of the depositors, prevented anything like a run. Some of the smaller depositors were a little excited at first, but quickly comprehended the situation, when satisfied that their deposits were fully secured and would be promptly paid with interest on the 1st of July. There was no excitement at the bank, and no deposits were withdrawn. On the contrary, a number desired to make further deposits, which were of course declined. The depositors have unlimited confidence in the security of their funds, and there will be no embarrassment to the company in settling its affairs. The quick assets of the company will be converted into each, if need be, and the small depositors who desire it, can be paid before the 1st of July, but they will lose their half year sinterest, and this fact will induce them to let their money remain undis-turbed, as they are now convinced they are turbed, as they are now convinced they are fully secured.

Great interest centers in the meeting of the stockholders tomorrow. A number of Atlanta stockholders came in tonight. Others from different points will be here tomorrow. A new board of directors and officers of the company will be elected tomorrow. It is currently reported that after the new board goes in there will be a number of changes in the office force.

The action in discontinuing the savings department is generally approved as good business policy, though portions of the company in future will be devoted to manufacturing

WEARY OF A CHURCH QUARREL He Seeks Solace from the Mouth of a Winchester Rifle. WAYCROSS, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]— Captain Richard Bennett, a primitive Bap-tist preacher, shot and killed himself instantly, last night, with a Winchester rifle, about 12 o'clock, at his home near Denton, Ga. The ball entered the right temple and blew the entire top of his head off. Pieces of his skull were lying all over the floor, and the ceiling was sprinkled with his brains.

THE CAUSE OF THE SUICIDE. In Ware county there are two divisions in the primitive church, known as the Bennett-ites and Crawfordites. Captain Bennett was the leader of the Bennettites. There has existed for some time a difference between Captain Bennett and his church, which caused him to be censured very heavily. This, cou-pled with ill health, has been assigned as the only reasonable cause which prompted him to take his life.

DEFEATED IN POLITICS. He was about fifty years old, and was a man of marked intelligence and influence. He was a candidato for the last legislature, but was defeated. The suicide has caused considerable regret here, where he was so favorably known. General excitement prevails among his followers.

THE FUGITIVE FATALLY SHOT.

He Had Murdered His Wife and War Pursued by Officers. WARRENTON, Ga., February 17.—[Special.] Mr. Joseph Hall shot and fatally wounded a negro by the name of William May last night, a few miles from this place. A warrant for his arrest was put in the hands of Mr. Hall to serve, and Mr. Hall went to the house of the negro last night, and found him in bed. Hall, entered the house, and instead of the negro surrendering he presented a pistol and was in the act of firing when Hall fired upon him with a shotgun. The whole load took effect in the negro's right side. The negro is wanted in Washington county for the murder of his wife some time last year. The negro, when last heard from, was still alive, but it was thought that he will be dead before morning. HIS SKULL CRUSHED.

WHOSE REWARD IS IT?

OFFICERS OZBURN AND PELOT IN TROUBLE OVER THEIR $500.

A New Richmond in the Field Claiming a Share in the Reward for the Gold Brick Swindler.

It was offered for the capture of Hall, alias Harper, the gold-brick swindler.

And it was earned by Sergeant Bob Ozburn and Patrolman G. B. Pelot. But they are having trouble over it. The reward has got into the courts, in the form of a suit and petition for injunction that is somewhat novel, to say the least.

Yesterday mornin ; Sergeant Ozburn reached Atlanta with the 500 reward money jingling in his inside pocked. He was in very high spirits, and had smile for all the boys. Pelot was also in fine humor, and looked as spry as a cricket, with a pretty little rosebud pinned to the lapel of his coat-Pelot's, not the cricket's.

Before evening, however, a damper was cast upon their happiness.

It fell in the form of another claimant for the reward, or part of it, which in their minds they had already invested in business blocks. The new Richmond who so suddenly entered the lists was G. P. Rosboro, the conductor upon whose train Hall came to Atlanta.

Rosboro came prepared to contend for what he claimed as his part of the booty. He had retained Mr. Ladson to second him, and before Officers Ozburn and Pelot knew what was coming, they were confronted with a formal looking declaration of their alleged breaches

The proceedings were begun by Mr. Ladson yesterday, soon after Sergeant Ozburn arrived in the city in the possession of the $500.

Mr. Ladson asks Judge Clark in his petition to issue an injunction restraining Ozburn and Pelot from using or parting with the aforesaid $500, or any part of it, until the court decides that it is justly their property. Right here it may be mentioned that both Sergeant Ozburn and Patrolman Pelot say they have disposed of their prize money, that they had divided it and spent it before Mr. Ladson and his client had got in their work. If this be so, it is a case of an injunction to hold assets where there are no assets. But to return to the paper filed in the superior court yesterday.

In this document it is recited that the pet titioner, G. P. Rosboro is justly and in good conscience entitled to one-half of the reward offered for the capture of the gold-brick swindler, Hall, or Harper.
Rosboro declares that he was aware of the notified of this while his train was at Gainesville, and that he immediately instituted search and found that the man was on his train bound for Atlanta.

When his train reached the suburbs of the city the petitioner avers that Hall tried to make his escape, but that he locked the cardoor and prevented him. He claims that but for his action the man would have succeeded in evading arrest. "In fact," the petitioner recites, "the petitioner arrested the said Hall" and delivered hir, over to the officers at the depot in Atlanta.

Directly after the arrest, continues the document, Rosboro potified Ozburn and Pelot that he would institute upon a division of the reward, which was greed to. After receiving the reward from the authorities at Augusta the declaration states that Sergeant Ozburn returned with it to Atlanta, and that upon demand by the plaintiff he refused to give him his portion.

Judge Richard H. Clark heard the petition yesterday, and set it for final hearing on the 7th day of March yext.

The Other Side.

Soon after Sergeant Ozburn arrived in the city, yesterday morning, he and Mr. Pelot made an appointment with Conductor Ros-Sergeant Ozburn tendered Mr. Rosboro $25 as a present for his courtesy in answering his message asking if Hall was on his train.

Mr. Rosboro refused to accept this, stating that if he could not get an equal share of the reward he would not have any.

Mr. Rosboro then went away and the of-ficers heard nothing more of him until they were served with copies of the suit brought by him through Mr. Ladson.

The officers say that Conductor Rosboro has no real claim to a cent of the reward. Their ent is that when the telegram was re-by Chief Connolly from Chief Hood. of Augusta, describing the gold brick fakir and offering the reward, they went to the telegraph operator in the Air-Line office and got him to send a message to the operator at Gainesville asking him to see the conductor on the south-bound train and ascertain if a man answering to the description sent was abroad.

The operator at Gainesville did so, and the answer came back that the man was there.

Officers Ozburn and Pelot then waited until the train came in. Both say that they never mentioned anything about a reward, and that the conductor admitted to them that he did not know there was a reward for the man until Railroad conductors have authority to make arrests, and had Conductor Rosboro known of the reward he would undoubtedly have made the arrest himself and thus secured the $500.

Officer Ozburn and Pelot feel that they were doing the right thing when they offered Conductor Rosboro a present of $25.

A SHOW ON WHEELS.

W. C. Coup's Novel Enterprise Will Reach

Something novel in the way of a railroad show will reach the city tomorrow morning from Macon, and judging from the compli mentary notices given it in cities where it has exhibited the show must be an attraction well worth seeing.

It is W. C. Coup's railroad show, the train consisting of six cars, each of which is fitted up as a museum, and the whole being thrown together so as to form a hall 350 feet long. The application of Mr. Lutz for a pension, thich was a topic of discussion at Monday light's meeting of the confederate veterans, as attracted a good deal of attention.

Lutz was wounded in the service, but it is aimed that the dirability was not great agont to application. The effect of the wound was a stiff ankle, partially but not totally disabling him.

Captain Tip Harrison said yesterday in regard to L. Lutz's application for a pension:

"I don't care to talk about it. The case is like 'Banquo's ghost'—always coming up. It has been before the department three times, and the only reason that Lutz has not obtained a pension is simply because he is not entitled to it under the law."

It anyears that the case has been fully in-entitled to it under the law."

It appears that the case has been fully investigated by the department.

In 1890 the application was referred to Judge Nesbit and Captain Milledge, who made an adverse report. Acting on this, Governor Gordon rejected the application, although Mr. Lutz appeared before him in the interest of his claim.

his claim.

Dr. Miller has reported the extent of the disability to Governor Northen, who has refused the pension, believing the injury is not sufficient to entitle Lutz to a pension under the present law.

THE PAYMASTER.

Tonight this interesting English comedy drama will be presented with a car load of special scenery by a company said to be very meritorious. Although this play is a drama, it is so interwoven with good comedy that it leaves the most pleasant impressions upon the audiences, and has the same wholesome effects as a real and pure comedy. Nothing vulgar exists in its most laughable and almost roaring scenes, and in that it is superior to the usual farce. The scenery is said by ex-changes to be very fine and striking, and the scenic effects are remarkable by this novelty. No better commentary can be made on the merits of this production than to state that it is now on its fourth annual tour through the United States. Jefferson-Florence.

As far as we remember "The Heir at Law" has never been given in Atlanta. It will be, therefore, a great treat to see this comedy given by such stars as the ones composing the Jeffer Florence combination. At every point of view the performance will be perfection. The New York Sun said of it when presented in "The Heir at Law" is somewhat trite in idea, and its humor in the hands of a less experienced company than that which acted in it last night might seem a trifle musty and hard. But as it was, the performance was one of exceptional interest, and highly amusing and entertaining.

It was as Dr. Pangloss that Mr. Jefferson made his debut in New York at Laura Keene's theater in August, 1857. Since 1859 he has never appeared in the part. In his hands the shallow but crafty tutor of Milk alley, with his Latin quotations, is an impersonation of exquisite finish. The character is perfectly developed, and, while one cannot help roaring at its humor, there is an under stratum of sympathy that is delightfully touching and human.

This morning a party of Atlanta capitalists will take a trip to north Georgia to inspect rich iron deposits which have been recently discovered there, and which are already being developed. The party will consist of Messrs. P. H. Harralson, Dr. H. L. Wilson, C.W. Hunnicutt, J. D. Collins, W. A. Hemphill, George Winsnip, E. P. Howell, H. G. Khurt, J. H. Moore, J. J. Meador, Yesterday specimens of the ore deposit on the property, which is owned by the Chattahoochee Land Company, were received in Atlanta. They were exceedingly rich and created a great deal of interest among those who examined them.

The Air-Line solid vestibule train has evidently come to stay. From its inception the censy come to stay. From its inception the venture has been a success, and every trip is a profitable one, the train being always crowded and people frequently being turned away owing to lack of room. The traveling public owing so lack of room. The traveling public knows a good thing when it sees it, that is certain. No where in the country are better accommodations provided for the same money than the Richmond and Danville railroad gives its patrons on the limited solid vestibule train to Washington and New York.

and an even dozen of the city fathers were on hand.

The meeting began early and held late, and to the reporter who viewed the scene from a telegraph pole, the interest manifested in the business in hand was easily apparent.

Noses were counted at several stages of the sitting, but just what the count meant, or its result, could not be learned.

One thing is certain.

The caucus had for one of its objects the filling of the two vacancies on the board of police commissioners, made by the expiration of the terms of Messrs. Brown and Stephens.

These vacancies are to be filled by the council at the next meeting, and it was gathered from those who attended the caucus last night that the successors to Messrs. Brown and Stephens were discussed. It is possible, in fact probable, that the game has been "fixed."

A number of names for the police commissioners were up, among them Messrs. Stephens and Brown as successors to themselves, and Messrs, Laird, Roberts and Nelson.

It is very safe to say that the new commissioners were up, among them these.

There was considerable talk on the outside about the other city offices which are to be filled in July. Whether or not anything was done in reference to these could not be learned, as mum was the word with the members of the meeting.

Now the owner of the property instructs us to sell for $500, $200 cash and balance to be paid in two years at 8 per cent. If you will calculate you will find that the interest amounts to only $2 per unonth; but this is not all. The best thing of all is, you will be able to collect your rent on the house monthly, and yet you only have to pay the interest once a year, and that at the end of the year. Now, you might say to yourself, "Well, if this is such a good bargain, why don't the present owner keep it?"

Cured by Cuticura

Cured by Cuticura

For about thirteen years I have been troubled with eczema or some other cutaneous disease which all remedies failed to cure. Hearing of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, I resolved to give them a trial. I followed the directions carefully, and it affords me much pleasure to say that before using two boxes of the CUTICURA, four cakes of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I was entirely cured. In addition to my own case, my baby boy, then about five months old, was suffering with what I supposed to be the same disease as mine, to such an extent that his head was coated over with a solid seab, from which there was a constant flow of pus which was sickening to look upon, besides two large tumor-like kernels on the back of his head. Thanks to your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, his scalp is perfectly well, and the kernels have been scattered so that there is only one little place by his left ear, and that is healing nicely. Instead of a coating of scabs he has a fine coat of hair, much better than that which was destroyed by the disease. I would that the whole world of sufferers from skin and blood diseases knew the value of your CUTICURA REMEDIES as I do. They are worth ten times the price at which they are sold. I have never used any other toilet soap in my house since I bought the first cake of your CUTICURA SOAP. I would be inhuman, as well as ungrateful, should I fail to speak well of and recommend them to every sufferer. I have spoken of them, and shall continue to speak well of and recommend them to every sufferer. I have spoken of them, and shall continue to speak well of and recommend them to every sufferer. I have spoken of them, and shall continue to speak well of and recommend them to every sufferer. I have spoken of them, and shall continue to speak well of and recommend them to of good you have done me and my child, I remain, yours grate fully.

OLD JACKS, AL BLE STRANGE SUPERSTATHER OF THE NEAR TURNNER

Met Death-A Frightened Citizen. Toccoa, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—A strange superstition seems to possess the people living in the neighborhood of Turner-ville. Some time ago an old negro named

An Old Negro Who Wat Kille

Stephen Jackson, in wending his way from visiting his children near Turnerville, was visiting his children near Turnerville, was overtaken by a ponderous engine on the trestle at Annandale and killed. No fault of the railroad men; every brake was applied to the wheels of the train, the steam reversed, the life of engineer and every one on the train was risked by the sudden reversion to save the old man, but his doom was sealed then and there.

old man, but his doom was sealed then and there.

Since that ill-fated day, the people declare that man after man has seen near the treatie the form and ghost of old man Stephen Jackson. Night after night has he been seen having all the appearance of life, hastening his escape over the Nix trestle. The colored people, who are more superstitious than the white race, have been made to burn the wind from that fatal spot, and even brave-hearted white men, who have often faced the cannon's mouth undaunted, have fied from the spot where Stephen's form appears.

A few nights ago a man—as brave a fellow as ever scaled the breastworks of an enemy, or charged a battery of cannon—who crossing the trestle where Jackson met his death, not thinking of the old man's sad fate, when suddenly a form appeared before him, causing him to reel on the trestle and almost lose his balance. He fled from the apparition and de-ance. He fled from the apparition and de-clared that the figure was that of old Stephen

Jackson.

An old tramp who reached Turnerville that night was regarded with suspicion by the superstitious, and few negroes would approach him, believing that the ghost of old Jackson had assumed that guise in order to do them some deadly injury.

It is surprising that such superstition should obtain in any community—the more so because white people can be found who believe as firmly in the ghost of old Stephen Jackson as do the more ignorant neg oes.

The citizen referred to above, who saw Jackson last, says he we ild not go across that trestle after night for a all of sale to the Air-Line railroad.

PETE HAS ESCAPED. A Postoffice Inspector Fails to Hold His Game.

McDonough, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—A postoffice inspector came flown to this town yesterday and arrested Pete Hammond, a young lad about sixteen years old. Pete is a son of Mr. N. M. Hammond, who is a sub-contractor on a star route leading from McDonough to Snapping Shoals, Peeksville and several other offices. The youth is charged with tampering with the mail sack while en route from one office to the other. After the arrest Pete jumped from the buggy and made his escape, and has not been apprehended up to this hour.

DROWNED IN THE RIVER. A Negro Mail Carrier Who Was Capsized

Lincolnton, Ga., February 17.—[Special.] The heavy rains have swollen the rivers and creeks in this section to dangerous heights. The drowning of a negro mail carrier on the route from Modoc to Lockhart was due to the rough and rapidly flowing water. It seems that another negro was taking him across the river in a boat and the boat was capsized by the swift water. Uncle Sam's negro sank with his mail and neither has yet been found. The other negro swam safely to shore. With the Mail.

Three Hundred Feet Deep. WAYGNOSS, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—The artesian well at this place has reached a depth of 500 feet. Mr. Wade, the contractor, reports the prospect for good water very encouraging, having passed a stratum of sand, which was the greatest obstacle. Eight-inch plping will be used. Sharks' teeth, crystal and quartz rock are being pumped 105.

The evidence brought out at the trial was overwhelmingly against the prisoner as to his guilt. It appears that the defendant's foot is of unusual length and size and when his shoe was placed in the tracks made in the white sand around the premises, fit exactly. The evidence also showed that the defendant and his brother had been to negroes in the neighborhood importuning them not to disclose what they knew about his movement on the night of the fire.

After he was bound over the officer in charge permitted the prisoner to go to his home to change clothes and while there he effected his escape and is at large, supposed to be lurking in Screven county, his former

THE WIDOW IS DEAD,

After Having Gratified a Wish of Sixty-WARRENTON, Ga., February 17.-[Special.] The visit of Mrs. Mary Rabun to Alabama, to see a sister whom she had not seen since both were children, sixty-three years ago, has ended by death. Her visit was no doubt a pleasant one, but the news comes that she, on Saturday, January 31st, laid her burdens at the foot of the cross and went home to Him who gave her being.

Mrs. Rabun was a widow of the confederate war, and as such was entitled to a pension under the present state enactment. She single-handed and alone, after the war, reared a large family of children, now all grown and

MONEY IN MELONS.

The Georgia Melon Growers to Meet in Albany Today.

ALBANY, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]— There will be a great increase this season in the melon acreage in this section. Especially will this be the case in Mitchell county, where, it is said, every person who can rent a piece of land, and get a horse or mule to cultivate it, will raise melons for the market. A prominent planter said recently that he was very much afraid the business was being overdone.

The melon growers' convention, which meets in Albany today, will be largely attended.

Decatur's New Council.

DECATUR, Ga., February 17.—[Special.]—The new council for 1891 met last Friday evening with new council for 1891 met last Friday evening with Mayor George A. Ramspeck presiding. J. P. Laird was elected clerk and treasurer. W. W. Josey was elected marshal and sexton. Reform is the motto, and right badly is it needed. The new mayor and council are struggling with debts of nearly $400 ieft by the council of 130 and are trying to devise ways and means of paying this debt and doing something to improving the streets, which are now almost impassable.

Toccoa, Ga., February 17.-[Special.]-A strange superstition seems to possess the people living in the neighborhood of Turner-ville. Some time ago an sold negro named Stephen Jackson, in wending his way from visiting his children near Turnerville, was overtaken by a ponderous engine on the tres-tle at Annandale and killed. No fault of the railroad men; every brake was applied to the wheels of the train, the steam reversed, the life of engineer and every one on the train was risked by the sudden reversion to save the old man, but his doom was sealed then and since that ill-fated day, the people declare that man after man has seen near the trestle the form and ghost of old man Stephen Jackson. Night after night has he been seen having all the appearance of life, hastening his escape over the Nix trestle. The colored people, who are more superstitious than the white race, have been made to burn the wind from that fatal spot, and even brave-hearted white men, who have often faced the cannon's mouth undaunted, have fied from the spot where Stephen's form appears.

A few nights ago a man—as brave a fellow as ever scaled the breastworks of an enemy, or charged a battery of cannon—was crossing the trestle where Jackson met his death, not thinking of the old man's sad fate, when suddenly a form appeared before him, causing him to reel on the trestle and almost lose his balance. He fled from the apparition and declared that the figure was that of old Stephen clared that the figure was that of old Stephen

Jackson.

An old tramp who reached Turnerville that night was regarded with suspicion by the superstitious, and few negroes would approach him, believing that the ghost of old Jackson had assumed that guise in order to do them

It is surprising that such superstition should obtain in any community—the more so because white people can be found who believe as firmly in the ghost of old Stephen Jackson as

The citizen referred to above, who saw Jackson last, says he would not go across that trestle after night for a bill of sale to the Air-Line railread.

PETE HAS ESCAPED. A Postoffice Inspector Fails to Hold His

Game, McDonough, Ga., February 17 .- [Special.]-A postoffice inspector came down to this town yes-terday and arrested Pete Hammond, a young lad terday and arrested Pete Hammond, a young lad about sixteen years old. Pete is a son of Mr. N. M. Hammond, who is a sub-contractor on a star route leading from McDonough to Snapping Shoals, Pecksville and several other offices. The youth is charged with tampering with the mail sack while en route from one office to the other. After the arrest Pete jumped from the buggy and made his escape, and has not been apprehended up to this hour.

DROWNED IN THE RIVER. ▲ Negro Mail Carrier Who Was Capsized

With the Mail. LINCOLNTON, Ga., February 17.—[Special.] The heavy rains have swollen the rivers and The heavy rains have swollen the rivers and creeks in this section to dangerous heights. The drowning of a negro mail carrier on the route from Modoc to Lockhart was due to the rough and rapidly flowing water. It seems that another negro was taking him across the river in a boat and the boat was capsized by the swift water. Uncle Sam's negro sank with his mail and neither has yet been found. The other negro swam safely to shore.

Nature Will Have Her Way. In all this wide world no two sadder, mor heart-broken sufferers can be found than old

Judge Warder and his daughter in Chatta-

The wild work of a moment, when the judge was crazed by drink, wrecked and ruined a once happy little family. Without reason, and perhaps without consciousness, the judge shot and killed his son-in-law, wounded his daughter, and himself received a ball which may yet cause his death. For weeks the unhappy father has lingered on a bed of pain. Driven insane by remorse he refuses to take nourishment. But there is one devoted watcher by his bedside who is struggling heroically to save him. The daughter, widowed by her father's frenzied hand, and plunged into the depths of a hopeless sorrow, spends sleepless nights trying to soothe the delirious sick man, and by her gentle pleading persuades him to take enough food to keep him alive.

It is pathetic and pitiful. But it is glorious Nature touching those two tortured hearts with a ray of her divine power. A daughter's love speaks out and blesses her husband's destroyer, and it must at times make itself felt and lighten the burden of woe now crushing the wretehed man who is the object of her tender care.

The old judge is trying to starve himself to death, but he cannot resist his daughter. If he lives the physicians say that he will be insane. Even now he recognizes nobody, with the exception of his child-the widow of the man he slew in his drunken rage. The great bard said that one touch of Nature makes all the world kin. It has bound this despairing father and daughter together in a love so pure and holy that, while the world may wonder, it will also weep. A story so full of tragedy and pathos has rarely shocked our readers, and may God forbid that its like shall ever occur again!

Mr. Quay's Defense.

With a great deal of hemming and hawlng, Mr. Quay, the great republican leader, has placed his plea of "not guilty" before the country. It seems to have been a labored effort, and there are suggestions in it which show that it has not been a labor of love. That it altogether misses the mark at which Mr. Quay aimed cannot be doubted. It is a formal and perfunctory document. It is not impressive in any sense; it is dead and cold, and would have no weight with a court or jury, just as it will have no weight with the

It is months and months away from timeliness, and it lacks the sincerity that indignant and outraged innocence always manages to affix to its utterances. That Mr. Quay is a very shrewd political manager there canbe no doubt. To his methods alone is due the success of the republican party at the last election, and he deserves all the credit that can be squeezed out of that scandalous result. But he seems to have lost his head the moment that the apparently incriminating features of his history were brough out in the newspapers.

He slunk away from the charges brought against his personal and political character, and has steadily refused up to the reading of his defense in the senate, to make any denial or explanation. His silence has been construed against him.

If the charges were untrue, they were grossly libelous, and this could have been easily demonstrated before a jury of Mr. Quay's countrymen. Such a vindication would have cost him nothing, for there were prominent republicans in Pennsylvania so envious to see him vindicated that they would have paid all the costs of the trial.

This proffer Mr. Quay contemptuously re fused, and with it he refused the opportunity to vindicate himself to the satisfaction of the

A Man of Moods.

General Sherman was never consistent He never had a clearly defined purpose, and never stuck to any one principle or any one policy. He was ruled by his impulses and

This strange man reached middle age without knowing what occupation suited him best. He left the army for the banking business, then gave that up for the practice of law, and the war found him a professor in a Louisiana institute.

His attitude towards the south was mixture of friendship and hostility. From the field he wrote letters full of hatred and contempt for the negroes, and yet after a quarter of a century of peace he suggested that they should resort to the dagger and In 1862 the general wrote to his brother

John a remarkable letter in which he said: "Of course I approve the confiscation act, and would be willing to revolutionize the government so as to amend that article of the stitution which forbids the forfeiture of land to the heirs. My full belief is that we must colonize the country de novo, beginning with Kentucky and Tennessee, and should remove 4,000,000 of our people at with Kentucky and Tennessee, and ce south of the Ohio river, taking the ems and plantations of the rebels. * * We must colonize and settle as we go south, for in Missouri there is as much strife as ever. Enemies must be killed or transported ne other country." Three years late when Johnston surrendered we find Sher man offering leniont terms in which he rec emmended "the recognition by the execu-tive of the United States of the several state ts, on their officers and legislatures taking the eath prescribed by the constitufrom the war, the legitimacy of all shall be nitted to the supreme court of the United States 19 If this agreement had been carried out there would have been no reconstruction, and the south would have been spare many evils. But Sherman was overruled and all the world knows the result. How shall we judge a man who was one day all fire, and the next day all ice; forgiving one moment, and relentless the next; a patriot today and a partisan tomorrow?

The Eagle and Phenix.

The headlines to our special from Columhus yesterday, in regard to the change in the Eagle and Phenix, were calculated to mislead. This solid and reliable company only winds up one branch of its business, and, as was clearly seen by the body of our special, will in future confine itself exclusively to manufacturing. Several years ago a savings bank was added to the manufacturing business, which will be discontinued.

The Eagle and Phenix is one of the best manufacturing establishments in the country. The successful management of the company makes it one of the model mills of America. The savings bank was organized for a two fold purpose-to provide a plan for the operatives to save their wages, and for the purpose of increasing the plant. The plan was well laid and successfully worked. The depositors have the right to take 6 per cent bonds, the best interest ever paid by a savings bank.

The company is successful and will con tinue to grow.

He Will Be Mourned.

The death of Rev. George M. Funsten, rector of St. Philip's, removes a man of God whose work has been a blessing to his church and to the community.

Young in years, and with us comparatively a short time, Mr. Funsten's piety and love for his fellow-men, together with his zealous energy, won the love of all who knew him. While a close student, he never neglected the outside duties of a rector. When he came to his charge he found the church in debt, and he at once went to work to free it from embarrassment. He visited the poor and the sick, and day and night, at all seasons, the duty of the hour found him where he was most needed.

A man so unselfish, so useful and gen erally beloved will be missed and mourned, not only by his church, but by the people at large. He gave his life to the cause of the

Too Much Gush.

The trouble with Dr. Talmage, in his offhand remarks, is a tendency to overshoot the mark.

In his tribute to General Sherman, last Sunday, he said: "The century had no grander soul to surrender into the eternities than the one who has just passed away from us."

This is saving a good deal. It is saving too much. The grandest souls of the century are more likely to be found in log cabins than in the highest positions. The unknown men and women whose unselfish lives of toil and sacrifice make the world brighter for others are worth hosts of glittering generals whose swords made a nation wretched for a generation.

It is well enough to give Sherman due praise for his soldiership and his services to his country, but why shock a thoughtful Christian people with the declaration that the century had no grander soul to surrender? Dr. Talmage is growing too impulsive and too rhetorical.

Senator Brown's Work

On account of his very bad health, which has been continued for many months. Senator Brown has been unable to attend the sessions of the senate and to give the atten tion to public affairs there which he would have liked very much to have done. But during this trying period he has not been an inattentive observer of what was going on. He has kept posted upon the prominent measures before the senate and the country, and has been constantly paired on all politi cal questions, and by correspondence with distinguished senators has taken part in the discussion of some of the most important questions.

Only the other day our Washington correspondent was referring to the fact of the high estimation in which Senator Brown is held by his colleagues in Washington, and he quoted the statement made by Senator Gorman, the leader of the democracy, with whom Senator Brown has been in correspondence, in which Senator Gorman was very complimentary of Senator Brown for the great interest he took in the defeat of the force bill, and the anxiety he had that his pair should be constantly observed. In the matter of the Nicaraguan canal, which Senator Brown considers one of the most important measures to the people of the union, and more especially to the people of the southern states, of any that have agitated the popular mind for many years past, Senator Brown has taken a decided interest, and he has been in correspondence with some of the leading minds of the country.

He is a member of the committee on foreign relations, composed of some of the first men of the senate. John Sherman, of Ohio, is chairman of the committee, and Edmunds of Vermont, Frye of Maine, Evarts of New York, and Dolph of Oregon are the republican members of the committee; and Messrs. Morgan [of Alabama, Brown of Georgia, Eustis of Louisiana, and Payne of Ohio are the democratic members. The committee examined the subject of the Nicaraguan canal with great care, and Senator Brown corresponded with them on this important question, and though he was absent from the senate when the report was made in favor of the project, it was signed by every member of the committee, including Senator Brown, who was permitted to place his name to it, though not able to be present. Senator Morgan has delivered a very able speech in favor of the bill, in which he takes occasion to use the following language in reference to Senator Brown. Senator Morgan says:

The bill which has just been read to the senat as a support from every section of the country hat gives it a broad and national character. hat gives it a blood and Oregon on the northern border, Louisiana, Alabama and Georgia on the conthern border, and Ohio and New York in the body of the states are represented on ttee, and give to it their earnest and uni

The people understand his wide and conservative views on questions relat-ing to public indebtedness and finance, and will ing to public indebtedness and finance, and will be glad to know that this bill has the honorable senator's earnest support. The people of the south especially have learned to value his opinion

THE PERSECUTED JEWS. Rabbi Reich Has Something to Say About

His Russian Brethren. The people of this country are greatly interested in the stories of the persecution of the ssia, and in many parts of the country meetings have been held in their behalf. Such a step has been talked of here, but as yet nothing definite has been determined upon Rabbi Leo Reich is considered probably the est authority in Atlanta on the condition the Jews in Russia, and best acquainted with the system of persecution and the spirit that prompts it. In answer to the question of what gave rise to the present severe treatment his people were receiving at the hands of the Russian government, he said:

"The present persecutions are the result alone of religious intolerance, and I know of no other reason. The Jews in Russia, as everywhere, are loyal and true citizens. In 1846, when Moses Montefiore visited the Czar Nich olas in behalf of his people, the czar said of the Jewish soldiery: 'My Jewish soldiers are veritable Maccabees.' In Russia there are at least 4,000,000 Jews, and if any are deficient in education the fault lies at the door of the government, as a very small per cent are allowed to enter the schools, and only 4 per cent are permitted the privilege of attending the university and of higher education. To show you that the tyranny of the czar does not arise from lack of civilization on the part of his Jewish subjects, I would say that while in Philadelphia I met with many highly educated Russian Jews who left their own country for the purpose of obtaining abroad educational privileges that were denied them at home.

"In the city of New York Russian Jews can be found fitting themselves for the learned professions, a tremendous sacrifice on their part for the sake of more knowledge."

As to the nature of the system of persecution, Rabbi Reich said: "It is the same as that instituted by Count Ignatiff in the year 1882. hich for cruelty, finds an historical which for cruelty, finds an historical counterpart in the persecutions of the Israelites, in 1492 during the reign of Fertinand and Isabel, when the Jews were expelled from Spain. The conduct of the czar towards his Jewish subject is an outrage to Christendom, as the czar claims to be the head of the Holy Greek Catholic church, and the Russians claim to be the disciples of and the Russians claim to be the disciples the one who preached love and good will among men. I would class them as those of whom Dr. Candler, of Emory College, in his whom Dr. Candler, of Emory College, in his excellent sermon at Trinity church on Sunday night, said: "They appear to have and boast of a great love for God but have none for man." Truly the civilization of Russia, so far as the tion of Russia, so far as t administration of its government is concern is not of the nineteenth, but of the fifteen century, and one need not look backward find a type of the inquisition."

"What do you think would be the best method for Americans to make their opinions felt, or can any good be accomplished by public "I know that all America is in deep sympa

"I know that all America is in deep sympathy with our persecuted race in Russis, for America has always been an asylum for those seeking liberty and freedom of thought and action, and Jews as aliberty-loving people might be said to be double Americans. As to the result of indignation meetings or petitions, I fear it will be as it was when Moses pleaded with Pharoah for his brethren, that their labors might be lightened—only increased burdens were added. The czar is a veritable Pharoah; we have a tyrant to deal with. Such was the result from the meeting and petition sent to the czar secution is unknown, it might have a different effect. Meetings have been held in New York and other cities. What will be the outcome of it I do not know."

"What do think it will all end in?"

"I am no prophet, or the son of a prophet, but from the history of the past we know that those nations that have been intolerant toward the Jews have fallen. Egypt, Assyria, Babylonia, Persia, Rome and Spain have vanished, while the Jews, a small nation, has survived, seemingly the 'survival of the fittest.''

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Daughters of the American Revolution WASHINGTON, February 17.—This is called sometimes the "iron age," the "age of progress," the "age of invention" and "of peace," but it seems to be woman's age just now. Woman's age is a subject that all its a subject that all its a subject that all its as the seems to be woman's age in the seems to be woman's is a subject that all wise people touch lightly, but as I am one of the "daughters" I may be pardoned for venturing to tell you something about this society. All good men are willing that woman should lead in all things womanly, though the work and aim of this society is not incompatible with womanly dignity the idea was not originated by them. Besides the order of the "Cincinnati" over 100 years old, the "Sons of the American Revolution" was organized about two years ago. This move was received with hearty approval throughout the land, and now there are flourishing chapters in different states, and should bein all. The spark of patriotism, latent only, caught the hearts of some American laddes in this city, and, presto, they are already a power in the land. The idea of organizing after the pattern of the "Sons" originated with Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, of this city, who is not only a lady of rare executive ability, but of high standard in social and literary circles. She, being an intimate friend of Miss Eugenie Washington, also of this city. a great-granddaugher of Colonel Samuel Washington (the brother of the father of his country), found this lady and many others ready to unite and respond. On October 11, 1890, the first meeting of the ladies for the purpose of organizing took place at the Strathmore Arms in this city. Among them were descendants of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Franklin, Ethen Allen, Pickens, Randolph, Lee, Rust, Chase, Green, Morris, Perry and others who rendered valuable services for American independence.

The objects of this society, as stated in The Constitution, are "to perpetuate the memory and

The objects of this society, as stated in The Constitution, are "to perpetuate the memory and the spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence by the acquisition and protection of historical spots and the erection of monuments; by the encouragement of historical research in relation to the revolution and the publication of its results; by the preservation of documents and relics, and of the records of the individual services of revolutionary soldiers and particular services of revolutionary soldiers.

chapters will probably be organized in all the states.

"The society knows no republican party, no democratic party, no woman's rights or any other party," and can but recommend itself to the hearts of patriotic women everywhere. The seal of the society represents a dame of the revolution spinning fax at the wheel of "we olden times," being in reality a sketch of Miss Meikleham, great-granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson, at her own spinning wheel. So, it will be seen, that if we are late getting at the noble work of preserving the memory and relies of our ancestors we are not too late to accomplish a great deal. It has been said of southern people and especially of Virginians, that they lay undue stress on the quality of their ancestry—they have a right to be proud of them, but the difficulties we have encountered recently in searching for and collecting correct family records, show more indifference about such things than many others. Within the past few years we have all thought of and felt more the importance of care in this respect, and Virginia has taken the lead in this. Her historical society has done good work and has rescued many valuables from the ravages of time and vandal hands. The tomb of Mrs. Mary Washington (the mother of George) is still Vilrginia's and her monument at Fredericksburg is in a fair way for completion. The sale of Washington relies in Philadelphia this week has caused me heartfelt pain—to think of even the silver plate from his coffin being purloined and sold at public auction. Oh, if the rich man's patriotism was only equal to his bank account? But the eagerness with which these relies lare bought, the high price paid for them, and other "signs of the times" remind me that the interest in such things is reviving, and there can be no more successful or agreeable way of exercising our feel the times" remind me that the interest in such things is reviving, and there can be no more successful or agreeable way of exercising our feelings and showing our love for "home and country" than by joining the society of the "Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution."

An enterprising correspondent says Jay Gould and Mr. B. W. Dark-A Surprising Exhibit AMERICUS, Ga., February 17 .- [Special.] There is an electric man in Americ wonder to the people. He is native and to the manner born, and it was not until recently the is powers became known, when a repor The Americus Recorder was informed of them The Americus Recorder was informed of them.

At first he strenuously denied possessing any such power, but finally admitted that he could do some peculiar things. This he acknowledged only after making the reporter promise to keep silent on the subject.

"You see," said he, "only one or two of my most intimate friends have any idea of it, and the world only found it out, a few months since."

I myself only found it out a few months sine I don't think there is anything great about I don't think there is anything great about in and don't want to be advertised as an electrical man. A few months ago I took some violent exercise, and then for some reason went into a dark room. I stretched out my arm and was astonished to see sparks fly from my fingers. At the same time I heard a crackling sound, and, running back into my room, told a friend there of the circumstance."

After considerable persuasion the gentle man promised to make an experiment. He began operations by rubbing his left arm view ously, and swinging it to and fro. Then, step-ping into a closet and closing the door, he stretched out his arm, when a dozen or so sparks crackled from the fingers. It was rather uncanny, and the door was thrown open when out in the light other experiments were suggested. One was to see if any feeling could be transmitted. This was tried, but without success. Then several small bits of paper were placed upon the table, and after the several small bits of paper were placed upon the subject sides. going through his motions, the electrician held his fingers at the distance of about half an inch above them. The papers leaped to the tips and remained stuck there for several seconds. This was the first time the experiment had been tried.

ment had been tried.

The experimenter had never attempted to light a gas jet and would not, although it is believed that he could. Whether other mavelous things can be done is a question which can only be settled by experiment. All of the gentleman's friends who have seen the experiments, are confident that he possesses powers not second to any of the famed electrified people. He is a well-known business man here, and is anxious to keep his powers from the public.

COUP'S RAILROAD SHOW. Talking Wax-Work Figures and Other In-

not unloaded, but is all inside the cars; which stands on a sidetrack.

Among the interesting things to be seen in Coup's show are rare and beautiful animals, talking wax figures, models of Vesuvius, Ætna and other volcances, true to nature, and hundreds of other things which will interest and instruct everybody, from the learned scientists down. The wax figure representing "The Dying Soldier" is said to be startlingly true to nature; also the other waxen figures which talk, laugh, sew, black boots and do other lifelike things. It is said to be perfectly nice in every way, and well suited to ladies and children as well as gentlemen.

The care will be located on the Central sidetrack just outside the union passenger depot and near the Southern express office. The show will be open at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Colored electric lights and an immense steam organ, also a row of bell ringers, will be among the attractive features of the show.

IN HIS PRIME.

FUNSTEN. OF ST. PHILIP'S.

After a Brief Illness He Passes Away in the Midst of the Earnest Labors of a Devoted Christian Life and Work.

Rev. George M. Funsten is no more. This announcement will carry sadness and sorrow to the hearts of the many friends who knew and loved the young divine Saturday afternoon, while visiting at Mrs.

Logan's, on Houston street, he was suddenly stricken with nervous prostration, and sent to St. Philip's rectory. Dr. Olmstead was summoned, and after-wards Dr. Roy, and the two physicians watched unremittingly by his bedside during his ill-

REV. GEORGE M. FUNSTEN. although there were one or two intervals when he seemed rational.

The skill of the physicians and the mos faithful nursing of skilled nurses were brought into requisition, and Monday the symptoms were not such as to cause any especial alarm.
All day long and far into the night the physicians and attendants watched by his bedside, and were hopeful of his recovery up to the last few minutes.

At 10 o'clock his sister, Mrs. Hinks, wife of Rev. Mr. Hinks, of Upperville, Va., arrived; and at 1 o'clock Rev. W. M. Dawes, his brother-in-law, rector of the Memorial church, Baltimore, came to assist in ministering to his wants. But death had set his seal on the brow of this Christian hero, and ere the morning dawned his soul left its earthly tenement and winged its flight to a fairer world.

There were present at the deathbed several members of the congregation. His death was as calm and peaceful as the falling asleep of a sinless child. Scenes at the Rectory.

At an early hour yesterday morning the sad news began to circulate, and members of the congregation hurried to the rectory.

The wonderful personal magnetism of the young rector had attracted people of all creeds and classes, and from early morning until late at night there was a constant stream of callers.

Never has deeper gloom fallen upon a pasorate than that which enshrouded the parish at the news of his death. He had been in daily intercourse with the different members of the congregation since his acceptance of the charge, and many a tear stained cheek evidenced the loving esteem in which the members held their beloved pastor Some of the scenes were most affectingly athetic, and the hardest heart could have but sympathized in the sorrow of those who missed the presence of one whose life was so full of the promise of a long and profitable

His Early Life.

Rev. George Meade Funsten was a son of Colonel David Funsten, one of the most gallant soldiers in the late war, who commande the Eleventh Virginia, and received a wound which caused his death, soon after the close of the war. He was of Alexandria, and was a member of the confederate congress. At Alexandria Rev. George M. Funsten was born thirty-one years ago.

On his mother's side Mr. Funsten was related to that eminent divine, Bishop Meade, being his grand nephew, and on that side his relatives were largely connected with the ministry. He was one of ten children. At the early age of seventeen he was a teacher in Danielsville. He attended college at Norfolk, and finally graduated for the ministry at Alexandria.

Being resolved to attend the University of Virginia, he taught again for a term, and then spent two years in the university.

Having equipped himself for the ministry, his first call was to the church at Marti nsville After spending awhile there he was sent, as assistant rector, to St. Paul's church. Richmond, then in charge of Rev. Dr. Minnegerode, one of the ablest clergymen in Virginia. He served that parish with such con-scientious zeal that he soon became an acknowledged leader.

In the early spring of 1889 he came to Atlanta as rector of the West End Mission His devotion to the cause of Christ, and his Funeral Arrangements.

At 1:20 o'clock today the body will be taken to the church, where it will lie in state until 4 o'clock, when the funeral services will be held. These will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Dames, of Baltimore.

After the services the casket will be shipped to Alexandria by the Richmond and Danville

After the services the casket will be simpled to Alexandria by the Richmond and Danville at 6 o'clock. The burial will occur at Ivey Hill cemetery Friday afternoon.

The ladies of St. Philip's will meet this morning at 10 o'clock to complete the arrangements, and the children of the Sunday school will meet at 3:30 o'clock for the purpose of attending the funeral.

We recognize that the parish and the city of Atlanta have lost a brave and true man—one pos-sessed of sterling qualifications. Manly and cour-teous, with a good and noble heart, ever ready to dispense charity or do some kind act, he never thought of self. He laid down his life for the church. He has now gone to his reward in heaven. We can only bow in submission. Henceforth it will be our earnest endeavors to so follow his precepts and imitate his example, that we may again see him and be with him. Therefore, be it Resolved, That we, the wardens and vestry of St. Philip's church, Atlanta, Ga., desire to express to the family of our late beloved rector, our warmest and truest sympathy in this, their hour of affliction. May the Father of Mercies and God of all comfort console and give them peace.

Resolved. That the wardens and vestry attend in a body the funeral services to be conducted Philip's church tomorrow, at 4 o'clock p. m. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the Rev. George M. Funsten, and a copy be given to the city papers for publi-cation; also that they be spread upon the minutes of the vestry.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine, saying he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This indisputable evidence of the great merit of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has given me unbo dence in the preparation, and I receit to my customers, knowing it cannot noint them."

"A short time ago, I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis. The remedies ordinarily used in such cases failed to give me relief. Almost in despair of ever finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was helped from the first dose. I had not finished one bottle before the disease left me, and my throat and lungs were as sound as ever." throat and lungs were as sound as ever.' Geo. B. Hunter, Altoona, Pa.

NEW YORK, February 17.—News that the dire NEW YORK, February 17.—News that the directors of the Burlington and Quincy were in session in Boston made a little life in that stock, especially towards moon, the general supposition being that the suspension in the matter of dividend would be ended by a declaration of the usual 1½ per cent for a quarter. On this there was a moderate amount of buying, for a turn and the price was run up 1½ per cent, but when the announcement was made that the dividend had been cut down to 1 per cent, there was a rush to get out, buyers of morning hours being especially auxious to throw overboard their loan. A great deal of long stock came out, however, from those who have been holding on for some time, and only one firm stood in the breach as buyers, until late in the day, when after a drop of 3 per cent from its best figures a slight after a drop of 3 per cent from its best figures a sligh was had on covering of shorts, put out earlier A shortness of the corn crop receives the blame for the decrease in the earnings of Burlington, and naturally corn roads suffered most in the decline which followed,

Private Wire Telegram to Youngblood & Haas. NEW YORK, February 17.—The market was buoyant

is forenoon, the feature to the trading being enor-ous purchases of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, alone being credited with acquiring over 12,000 shares of this stock. The balance of the list advanced in sympathy and for the time being there was both an increase of activity and a decidedly buoyant, feeling. When shortly after noon, however, it became known that the directors of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road had "eclared a reduced dividend and the stock would pay only 1 per cent for the quarter instead of the 1½ per cent, there was a heavy realizing, and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy especially was the point of attack, the latter declining over 3 per cent; and while it is no doubt that much of the selling was by disappointed holders, the reduction of the dividend and while it is no doubt that much of the selling was by disappointed holders, the reduction of the dividend needs hardly have been unexpected. Earnings of all he Granger roads have been decreasing of late. The prospects for the next six months, for the corn roads, especially, do not promise much improvement and the only hope that those roads have is that the Western Traffic Association may be successful in making them keep faith with each other and uphold rates, as without better rates it will soon not be a question of dividend, but of fixed charges. We are rather inclined to hope for the best. Rallroad managers must by this time have realized thenecessities of the situation and we firmly believe that in time the Western Traffic Associafirmly believe that in time the Western Trame Associa-tion will prove as successful in restoring the Grangers' roads to prosperity as the Trunk Line Association has in connection with the railroad companies which are included therein. While therefore we will have poor earnings and plenty of discouraging statements in connection with the Grange roads for the next few months, we believe that after that there will be some sunshine.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, February II.—[Special.]—The market has been heavy rather than weak, the resistance offered by the short interest in their desire to cover preventing a rapid decline; and, while the decline was continuous to the close, at no time was the market ragged or weak. The influences causing the decline are the same which have been at work since January I, and until these unfavorable factors are overcome by the appearance of investors willing to carry over the surplus of cotton to the next crop our market will continue to drag. The receipts at the three interior towns are 5,200 bales, against 2,300 bales in 1890, and their stocks show an increase instead of a decrease, as they should. Judging from the offering of exchange the south has sold cotton abroad in anticipation of this large movement, creating an easy feeling exchange the south has sold cotton abroad in ring of this large movement, creating an easy feeling in Liverpool, where the continued poor trade accounts from Manchester deter merchants from buying except at such prices as are tempting. Our stocks of cotton at the ports and interior towns are largely in excess of last sensou, and weigh heavily upon those who otherwise would be disposed to buy cotton at present prices, which are tonight the lowest of the season. Indications now point to an interior movement of 35,000 bales, against 23,000 bales last year, and a plantation movement of 70,000 bales, against 63,000 bales in 1890.

By Private Wire to Younghlood.

Very soon afterward considerable lines of long cotton began to come out, and in the absence of absorbing power resulted in quite a sharp decline, and under the pressure of these offerings prices closed at the lowest. In fact, we are now approaching figures which have not been experienced for many years. Our estimate of 8,000,000 bales is decidedly too low, we believe. It is a remarkable fact how persistent are the reports of the quantity still in the country. Our Manchester cables say the market there is growing worse. All in all the situation, irrespective of price, is quite a weak one. The time is not far distant when it may be right to begin buying—in fact, we think to start now with very conservative action and intentions cannot be attended with any great risk.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions.
CHICAGO, February 17—The opening price for May wheat was 97% c with sellers rather more vigorous than buyers, which resulted in some sales at 97%@97%c. The staying power was with the buils, however, and the tendency turned in an upward direction. During the first hour fluctuations were between 97%097%c, with the preference for the upper register, which, after another half hour's trading, was moved up to 88%c; and, after a reaction to 97%c, it was shoved upon noteh higher to 88%cs. one notch higher to 981/2098/4c. The market in the latter half of the session was stiff in the face of a good deal of selling by parties who bought early in the day The corn market opened firm but inactive at about yesterday's closing prices. There were sales of May at 52%c and also at 52%c, and for some time prices re mained close to these figures, but with the encourage ment of a firmer wheat market and a good demand ment of a firmer wheat market and a good demand for cash offerings, firmness at first and later decided strength became the characteristics of speculative trading. May corn advanced to 53%c by easy stages and after several reactions, and the highest price quoted was being bid as the closing bell sounded, with sales almost instantaneously thereafter at 63%c. Oats borrowed considerable strength from corn which caused an advance of %c. The market was fairly active. Speculative dealings in provisions showed an easier Speculative dealings in provisions showed an easier feeling and at somewhat reduced prices from those ruling as the market closed yesterday. There was some strength infused from the firm tone of wheat and corn deals, and May pork, which opened at a decline of 2½c, sold off 5c more, but recovered the early oss and closed at the same price as on the day before Lard and ribs pursued a somewhat similar course

Haas. CHICAGO, February 17 .- Over 1,000,000 bushels in rease of wheat on passage, plenty of rain in Cali ornia, general snows in the winter wheat region was bout the substance of the bear news this morning On the other hand, the English visible supply de On the other hand, the English visible supply de-creased about 500,000. The Liverpool market opened a shade higher and continued strong with ½6 advance during the day. Reports from the growing crop in France continue unfavorable, and the fact that foreign dispatches bring orders to buy would indicate that the foreigners believe in the reports. Receipts today at Milwaukee, Chicago, Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Toledo and Detroit were 211,000 bushels, although quite large, the shipment from the above named places was over 235,000 bushels. Clearances of four from New York were about 62,000 packages. This certainly is a over 235,000 bushels. Clearances of flour from New York were about $2,000 packages. This certainly is a free movement of wheat and wheat-flour, considering this season of the year, when the movement is usually light during the close of navigation. Outside speculators appear to be indifferent. Most of our large local speculators continue bearish and the result is rather a dull scalping market with indications at the close favorable to holders.

Receipts of sample corn were quite large, but the demand for sample lots was good and good buying of speculative grades by a few large traders caused a somewhat higher market than yesterday, much to the somewhat higher market than yesterday, much to the surprise of some of our local bears.

There was fair trading in oats at a somewhat higher range of prices. The demand for sample lots of No. 3 was very good.

Trading in hog products was very light and confined to a very narrow range, closing at about yesterday's prices.

prices.

Speculators were apparently waiting for that last hog or for the removal of the German and French restrictions to our hog products.

THE RAILROAD WORLD.

DMAN RESIGNS THE DIRECTORATE OF THE N., C. AND ST. L.

Information of General Interest to John H. Inman is a director in the Nashrille, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway. He stating that his resignation is at the latter's disposal. Mr. Inman has not attended a directors' meeting in two years. He owns one hundred shares of stock of the road.

It is now generally believed that the Dalton mmodation will be kept on. It has had a first-class new baggage car given it, its old one being given to the bridge building gang, and it is said by those who know that in a few days it will have a fine new passenger coach given. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis are doing well to keep this train on and to improve its service. It is one of the best little feeders he road has, and on an early schedule will do the other travel of the road much good.

By the abolishment of trains 11 and 12 on the Western and Atlantic road two entire crews are taken off. What disposition will be made of the retiring conductors, the veteran Ish Dunn and George Ferguson, has not yet been determined on. An extra conductor is needed, and probably one of the two will get that position.

one of the two will get that position.

It is said that the rule which prevails on the Kashville and Chattanooga road, "first in, first out," will be adopted on the Western and Atantic. If this is done, the boys who have so many years enjoyed comfortable lay-overs, will doubtless indulge in some quiet, muffled kicks.

A big reduction of expenses is being made on the Cincinnati Southern division, but the most important is still to come. It is proposed to re-duce the division to three instead of four dis-tricts; the first to extend from Cincinnati to Burgm, the second from Burgin to Glen Mary, and the third from Glen Mary to Chattanooga. This will result in the abolishment of one roundhouse, the dismissal of a large force of men now required at one terminal point on the district, and will give the road the use of from twelve to sixteen more more second. engines. The crews will, of course, have longer runs than they have now, and the average mileage of the districts will be about 112 miles.

Surveys have been completed for the Alabama, Georgia and Florida railroad from Quincy, Fla., to Bessemer, Ala., 380 miles.

The Montgomery Monitor says that the manipulation of the mails by the route agents on the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad is the most ununitigated nuisance that was ever known. It is the rule, and not the exception, that the mail from the west for Montgomery is carried on to Lyons and brought back next day, and in every respect the service is poor.

The Georgia railroad has filed an order with the aldwin Locomotive Company for eight engines, be delivered next summer.

The offices of master of trains on the Western nd Atlantic road, at both ends of the route, have been abolished. At this end the office was made recent by the resignation of Captain Wylie. Mr. W. N. Johnson has been appointed day yardmaster, and Mr. C. W. Mangum night yardmaster, both being under the control of Superintendent McCullom. At the Chattanooga end the jurisdiction of General Agent Peebles will be extended over the local yard and train department, he to have competent assistants to give immediate supervision to each department.

Athens people consider the chances bright for the ultimate extension of the Georgia Midland and Guif railroad to or through that place. The road is said to be in splendid condition from McDonough to Columbus, being the entire length, and at the latter place has direct connections with the west through New Orleans. It is taought that a reasonable offer will induce the company to extend to Athens, and the people there will probably take some action on the matter.

Here is a little road that pays. The January statement of the Wrightsville and Tennille railroad shows the net earnings for that month to be $4,888.46, which is over 4 per cent on the capits stock of the company, or about 20 per cent mor than for the corresponding month of last year.

The Richmond and West Point Terminal system The richmond and west Foint Perminal system of roads, says The Railway Age, is now, with one exception, the greatest in the point of mileage in the country, as it aggregates 8,053 miles, or only about 900 miles less than that of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, besides which it claims about 500 miles of water lines, making a total of 8,550 miles of rail and water lines.

The Car Service Association, of Charleston, in-ending in its membership the Northeastern rail-raid, the South Carolina railway, the Charleston and Savannahirailway and the Cumberland Gap railroad, has appointed Legare J. Walker as its manager. Mr. Walker was at one time railroad commissioner of South Carolina, and was also deputy collector of the port of Charleston under President Cleveland's administration.

The railroad commission has decided to begin March 2d a tour of inspection of the railroad test throughout the state. All books will be broughly examined.

The Ohio Falls Car Works, at Jeffersonville, sem to be among the most prosperous in the country. They are kept busy on contracts, largely for souther roads. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis placed a contract with them for everal hundred cars, and they have a large contract with the Georgia Central to fill.

Track laying is progressing rapidly on the Ma-con and Atlantic railway. Five miles have been laid commencing at Burton and coming south, toward Savannah.

The people of Newnan are rejoicing in the prospect of improved railroad facilities at an early day. Prior to its purchase by the Central, the Savannah and Griffin and North Alabama railroad, had, it is said, reached a low condition in point of roadbed and equipment. The new owners have already begun the long-needed improvement, and General Manager Gabbett has announced that heavy steel rails have been purchased and will be laid just as fast as possible. The wooden bridges on the road will be stylaced with the best of iron structures and the road will be in condition in a short time for the heavy traffic which is waiting for these improvements.

Solid passenger trains are now run between Griffin and Chattanooga, obviating the inconvenient transfer which formerly had to be made at Carrollton. It is generally understood that the Columbus, Rome and Carrollton road, running from Chattanooga via Rome, has become the property of the Central. This road, in connecting with the Savannah, Griffin and North Alabama, forms a very important link in the Central system, as all western freight will probably come over the new line.

As the modern railroad train is ahead of the old-time stage-coach, so is Hood's Sarsaparilla, a modern medicine, ahead of the old-time remedies. In positive merit it is peculiar to itself.

Change of life, backache, monthly irregularities, hot flashes, are cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine. Free samples at all druggists.

Get the Best! Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyers are the best. They taste good. They are safe. They are sure.

S. S., is the only permanent cure for contagious blood Taint. Old chronic cases that physicians declare incurable are cured in every instance where S. S. S., has had a fair trial.

I honestly believe that S. S. S. saved my life. I was afflicted with the very worst type of contagious blood poison and was almost a solid sore from head to foot. The physicians declared my case hopeless. I quit everything else and commenced taking S. S. S. After taking a few bottles I was cured sound and well.

Do you understand the conditions? Simple enough. The stock that now fills the shelves will in three months be unseasonable. We must accelerate the outgo of Winter Clothing in order to have space for bright, new Spring styles. The time has come to cut deep into the heart of profits. Nothing shall be spared. Suits, Overcoats, Underwear. Twentyfive per cent discount allowed on everything that touches cold weather wear. It is wisdom to buy now for next year. Many have been doing so. Your dollars can't possibly earn larger interest. This is not a closing out sale of any wrecked concern. Just a repetition of what annually occurs here. When the period arrives for the reception of fresh goods we spur the old into the quickest sort of gait. The money to be saved is exactly 25c on the $1.00.
